

New officers for the New Neighbors Club include, in the front row, from left, First Vice President Kay Bowgren, Treasurer Sue Morrison, and Recording Secretary Cheryl Baldwin. In the back row, from the left, are President Pat Billings, Second Vice President Dot Teale, and Corresponding Secretary Anna Mae Wolfe

New Neighbors Club begins its fourth year

The New Neighbors Club starts its fourth year Thursday, September 8, at 9:30 a.m. at the Westminster Unitarian Church, 119 Kenyon Avenue, East Greenwich.

Since its first meeting on May 9, 1974, the East Greenwich-Cowesett New Neighbors Club has been responsible for the fun and fellowship of up to 200 new girls.

New Neighbors "stands on its own two feet" this year as the club "founders" have finished their three-year memberships.

The club was founded by Barbara Kennedy of Tanglewood Drive Barbara, together with 13 other new and lonely girls, formed the club purely for the social orientation of new residents to the community and each other. There are no fund-raising projects—just a long list of interest groups and several social functions.

Two fun-filled social events are already planned—a Progressive Dinner on October 22 and a "Merry Mingle" (Christmas dinner-dance) at the Chateau de Ville on December 4. The various activities offered include bridge, arts and crafts, luncheon gourmet, tours, tennis, out to dinner, out to lunch, garden club and book buffs.

Varied interesting and enlightening programs are offered at the monthly Hospitality Coffees.

The September 8 program will give new as well as old members a chance to meet their new Board and Interest Group Chairmen and hear of the exciting activities planned for the upcoming year. Babysitting will be available at one dollar per child.

Membership is open to those who have lived in the area two years or less and live in an area bounded on the east by Narragansett Bay, on the north by Interstate 95 and the geographic boundaries of the Town of East Greenwich.

For more information on New Neighbors, call Membership Chairman Dot Teale at 884-6394 and join us on September 8.

Burglars make off with silver and other items

Another break into an East Greenwich home last week allowed a thief to make off with silverware—the loot evidently favored by area burglars.

According to police reports, Phillip R. Dellacona, 25 Falcon Circle, called police at 3:44 p.m. on Thursday, September 1, to report that his home had been entered. He had last been at his house on August 19, he told police.

Entry into the house had been gained by prying a cellar window open.

Taken in the break were several silver candlestick holders, three silver trays, a brass and glass mantle clock, two gold watches, a gold bracelet, and a gold necklace.

Over the past year there have been many breaks into local homes where the thieves have carted away silver.

Leif Sabesta of East Greenwich takes his turn at bat with the help of Ann Marie Crowley, a summer volunteer counselor, at Meeting Street School for handicapped children, as one of the severely physically impaired units staged a Wheelchair Softball Game between the "Fenway Franks" and the "Bud Weisers." Salty Brine and Mike Gorman of WPRO joined parents and staff pushing wheelchairs from base to base and introducing the line-up.

Hardt named to top post at Web Systems

David R. Hardt has been appointed President of Web Systems, Inc., a new subsidiary of the Edward Parkinson Manufacturing Company.

This company was initiated to provide processing systems for packaging, industrial materials and textiles. The product line will include flexographic and gravure printers, coaters, laminators, label cutters, pouch machines, and various styles of roll handling equipment.

A line of retrofit components for the up-grading of existing processing lines will also be available. Hardt has 20 years of experience in web processing technology.

Most recently he has served as group manager for Sheldahl, Inc., where he was responsible for marketing and technical direction of that firm's roll fed converting equipment program. Previously, Hardt has held top engineering, marketing, and management positions with various firms in the web processing industries.

His education includes engineering, liberal arts, and a degree in business administration.

The Hardt family currently resides on Silverwood Drive in East Greenwich.

HOMEOWNERS INSURANCE

call 884-2460

GLOVER-PADULA INSURANCE, INC.

Sixteen Main St
East Greenwich, RI

We grow people

As a small Christian college, we offer purpose, direction, companionship, compassion. Learn Grow Barrington College, Barrington, R.I. 02806

401-246-1200

The Big Green Weekend Package.

$17.95
PER DAY

From Thursday noon through Monday noon, you can drive up to 100 miles free each day (20¢ per mile over a 100) and relax knowing your car is backed by Big Green Team dependability. And you'll be driving in comfort, in a Monte Carlo or similar sized General Motors car. Let The Big Green Team save you a bundle of green next time you need a weekend get-away car. This weekend special is non-discountable. Gas not included.

For reservations call 737-4800
AT GREEN AIRPORT, 2025 Post Road Warwick
IN PROVIDENCE, next to Marrot Inn

We feature General Motors cars.

National Car Rental

THE BIG GREEN TEAM

John Sherer - Licensee

Before you throw it away,
give it away,
save it till later,
turn it into cash — now!

Americana Flea Market

Rocky Hill Fairgrounds
Rte. 2, East Greenwich, R.I.

Sundays